

Dear Parents/Carers,

I hope you have all had a lovely half term, the weather has certainly been kind and with lock down measures being gradually relaxed you can finally meet up with family and friends albeit from a social distance.

Today some of our Early Years children joined the Key Worker children. It was wonderful to see faces of the little ones that we have very much missed.

The decision to open more widely from today was based on a comprehensive risk assessment taking on board the most up to date guidance. That being said, new guidance is sent from the government/DfE and Kent on a daily basis so we all need to remain flexible in our planning as last minute changes are often required.

The table below shows how we have planned for the first re-opening phase. You will see that I have taken into consideration a gradual, safe return for pupils whilst reflecting on the needs of the school community.

We have no further information on other year groups returning and sadly we do not hear before the general public. However, we will communicate as soon as we know, as I am aware that there is a lot of conflicting information in the media.

Although we were due to have an extended half term I thought you would appreciate having a full timetable of lessons available for the whole week. If you had planned to take these three days as holiday please feel free to still do so, you can pick up on the lessons on Thursday starting with Monday's plan.
