Don't write about the seals yet – we will do a whole section about them tomorrow. Complete the 3 tasks and email your sentences to your teacher. You can write more than one sentence for each section. Here's Mrs Martin's attempt: The road trip, which had been the subject of my dreams for so long, started in Monterey Bay where I collected my shining new hire car. Before long, we had left the city behind and were driving along a wild and unspoiled coastline on snaking roads which ran treacherously close to the cliff edge. I watched, intrigued and curious, as we sped past dark rock formations and pampas grass dancing like feathers in the breeze. The water of the Pacific Ocean crashed upon the scattered rocks; I noticed one group of rocks which had an opening like a doorway to another world. To our right were the forests: sunlight flashed between trees whose gigantic red trunks reached to the sky like ancient warriors clothed for battle, the sun glinting off their swords. |

| 1:30 – 2:30 | Reading Comprehension It's vital that you keep reading! Read every day by yourself and as much as possible to an adult. As well as this, we'd like you to complete at least one reading comprehension task each week. Sometimes these will be linked to our learning experience, which is California Dreaming, or it might be something different. Some will often have three levels of difficulty, shown by the *, so choose which is most appropriate for you. You can check your answers afterwards, using the answer sheets. REMEMBER! Don't work from memory. You need to refer back to the text to answer the questions, using your scanning skills and taking note of any sub-headings which might direct you to the answers. Always read the entire text first, before attempting any of the questions. |
