

Iguana Chottings Sheet 1

Swimming Marine Iguanas | Galapagos | BBC Earth - YouTube

The Marine Iguana | A Perfect Planet | BBC Earth - YouTube

Noticing and Simile:

Today I ventured ashore; the rocky coastline was dull and matte in the morning sunshine, iguanas indistinguishable from rocks. Thousands of them, nose to tail, packed in tight like the barrels in our stores.

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

Adverbs and Adverbial Phrases:

As I took my first step on to dry land, the landscape came alive. Mimicking that of the waves, there were ripples of subtle movement as the iguanas thawed in the increasing heat of the sun.

---

---

---

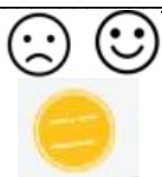

---

---

---

---

---

Complex Sentence – commas for parenthesis:

Each of my strides was full of caution, careful not to disturb the unique creatures. The dragon-like reptiles, which I later learnt are vegetarian, turned their gaze noting my movements.

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---