

Good morning lovely children! A warm greeting is being sent to you from all your teachers. Please have a go at completing your week's learning from home. This may be tricky in some cases and all we ask is that you try your best. This is the second week of our Sky Song experience, all linked to the book by Abi Elphinstone who visited our school two years ago.

Feel free to email your teacher with pictures of your fabulous work. If you have a problem with something, please see the days in brackets to find out who to email to get the quickest response. You are welcome to email this adult even if it is not your regular teacher. This is because your teachers will also be teaching the key worker children back at school.

	Look at your map from last week where you labelled many cold climate countries. Look at the 8-point Compass poster. It would be ideal to put this poster next to your map on the table (or even on top of your map!) How would you describe where your cold climate countries are? Look at some of my examples in green. Fill in the other. <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Russia Russia is in the North East of the world map. 2. Mongolia 3. Greenland Greenland is in the North of the world map. 4. Finland Finland is in the North of the world map. 5. Iceland 6. Estonia 7. Latvia 8. Sweden Are there any patterns with where these cold climate countries are?

Then have a go at these questions. <ol style="list-style-type: none">1. The average (most common) daily temperature in January, in England is 4 degrees Celsius. What is the average temperature in January in Greenland? Which is warmer?2. In England, the amount of rain that falls in a year is about 1392mm. What is the average amount of rain that falls in a year in Greenland? Who gets less?3. What is the average temperature in Greenland in April? You will need to make a good guess from the graph. In England it is 8 degrees Celsius. Who has a higher average temperature in April?

Take a read and enjoy! It talks about how she came up with all her ideas for the book. When you have finished reading, write down the three books that featured icy realms (with their authors) that were her childhood favourites. This can be found at the beginning of her blog. Use Google Images, with a grown up, to find pictures of the covers of the three books that inspired her. To do this, type the book name and the author into Google Images and choose one of the covers. You can either print them or just look at them and see if they remind you of anything in Sky Song.
