

Overview of the progress measures

The progress measures aim to capture the progress that pupils make from the end of Key Stage 1 (Year 2) to the end of Key Stage 2 (Year 6). They are a type of value added measure, which means that pupils' results are compared to the actual achievements of other pupils nationally with similar prior attainment. However, they need to be read with caution as migration of pupils can mean that the data compared is not for the same group of children.

This type of progress measure rewards schools for making progress with all of their pupils, whether they are prior low, middle or high attainers. Any increase in attainment achieved by each pupil will be reflected in the school's progress scores.

A school's progress scores in Reading, Writing and Mathematics are calculated as the average of its pupils' subject progress scores. These scores give an indication of whether, as a group, pupils in the school made above or below average progress in a subject compared with pupils with similar starting points in other schools.

A school's progress scores for Reading, Writing and Mathematics are calculated as its pupils' average progress scores. This means that school level progress scores will be presented as positive and negative numbers either side of zero.

A score of 0 means pupils in this school, on average, do about as well at Key Stage 2 as those with similar prior attainment nationally.

A positive score means pupils in this school on average do better at Key Stage 2 than those with similar prior attainment nationally.

A negative score means pupils on average did not achieve as well in the Key Stage 2 test than those with similar prior attainment nationally.
